Catholic Daughters to Model Latest Fashions at Luncheon

To set the mood for a fashion show and luncheon to be given by the Court St. Catherine, Catholic Daughters, on Sunday, May 19, 1:30 p.m. at Caprino's restaurant, they chose as their theme, "May Flowers Blossom Into Fashion."

Modeling the women's fashions will be members of the Catholic Daughters: Mmes. James Fornelli, William Hardesty, James Carlin, Edward Winklebauer, Dennis Flacy, Cecelia Young, and Miss Joan Revell.

Fashions to be shown will include Lilli Ann suits and dresses, sports clothes, casuals, street clothes, and Rose Marie Reid bathing suits. Of particular interest will be a bride's ensemble, to be modeled by Miss Joan Revell. She will be surrounded by an entire wedding party in full wedding dress. To add to the authenticity of the scene, Miss Revell will be escorted by her father, Gerald Revell, who will "Give the bride away" in his make-believe role.

The women's fashions and bridal raiment will be provided by the Gay Shop; hair-styles will be by Martin; and the Ruth Davis Shop will supply beach bags, jewelry and the latest in sunglasses. A local florist will donate the flowers and the centerpiece, which will be awarded as one of the door prizes.

To cater to the men guests, men's fashions will be shown by 'Donlens for Men' shop of Lomita. Don Tomlin will model suits, sports clothes, casuals, and the new Calypso bathing suit.

Luncheon will be served at 1:30 p.m., and the show will follow. During the intermission, Norman Panto with his accordion and multi-tonica, will provide entertainment.

Planning the affair are Mrs. John Gitschier, chairman, and Mrs. Gerald Revell, co-chairman, assisted by committee members Mmes. Philip

VALERA WEBBER WEDS DONALD M. ALEXANDER

The soft glow of candlelight and baskets of pink and white carnations set the scene for the marriage of Valera Jean Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Webber of Inglewood, to Donald Malcom Alexander, of Torrance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Alexander of Long Beach. Rev. John Stewart performed the marriage rites at the First Presbyterian church in Inglewood, Saturday evening, May 4.

The charming bride wore a gown of imported silk taffeta with a sweetheart neckline, applied with Alencon lace and iridescent seed pearls. A headpiece of matching lace and pearls held the illusion well in place. She carried a bouquet of two white orchids, surrounded by phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as maid-of-honor was her sister, Miss Marjory Ellen Webber. She wore a ballerina length dress in mint green, fashioned of taffeta, with a long torso. Her shoes and headpiece matched her dress, and she wore white gloves and a single strand of pearls. She carried yellow symbidium orchids.

Bridesmaids were Misses Rillis Lauer, Joan Schultz and Booty Bennett. They were all dressed in outfits to match that of the maid-of-honor, and carried bouquets of light maroon symbidium orchids.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. George Webber, wore a dusty rose taffeta dress, with Alencon lace around the square neck line and coming up each side from the hemline. She wore matching shoes, and white hat and gloves. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Sol Alexander, wore blue-green chiffon over taffeta with lace trim. Her accessories matched her dress.

The bridegroom was attended by Douglas Hines as best man, and ushers Richard Entorf, John Schulz, Jerry Bybee and Ronald Dixon.

A reception was held in the church social hall following the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Richard Entorf, the bridegroom's sister, attended the guest book. A huge four-tiered cake, with pedestals separating the layers, was cut by the bride.

Before leaving on their honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, the bride changed from her wedding gown into a blue suit, black pat-
